Why Flick?

1.

TRUSTED BY ELITE CLUBS

Our products are used in some of the biggest and best academies in the English Premier League such as Manchester City, Liverpool, Manchester United, as well as grass roots clubs, schools and other community settings.

We also have an elite club partnership model that is a fully bespoke option made available to the largest clubs.

Flick supply a number of items from our various ranges with the club's branding, (crest and colour way) instead of the Flick branding.

Clubs then typically retail the products directly within their official stores or websites and may use current players to promote the product.

Officially licensed training range in the LFC and MUFC flagship Club Shops.

TRAIN AT HOME PHILOSOPHY

Flick is the pioneering brand behind the 'train at home' market in the UK over the past 10 years. Having seen that players improve more quickly and develop to a higher standard when they train at home, in addition to training with their club, we have developed a full range of products all designed for solo and group use. Everything we do promotes the perfect blend of serious performance improvement whilst promoting a fun training environment - thus encouraging longer sessions and better progression.

Players that train at home are better prepared for team training and matches for their clubs.

Ethan Stapley (PICTURED RIGHT) went from grassroots to Brighton FC and on to captain Barcelona FC Academy.

His father hailed the additional time Ethan spent training at home with his Flick training range as integral for this meteoric rise to elite level. Ethan and his family moved to Spain so Ethan could pursue his soccer dream, where he still lives and plays as a 16 year old.

Working with leading UK University UCLan, we tested, measured and verified key skills with results indicating performance enhancements of up to 73%. This independent research sets Flick apart and proves the important part we can play in every soccer player's journey.
